FOREWORD

The Ministry of Education is pleased to present herewith this statistical report which is the first extensive report released after the end of the war in mid 2003 and, which clearly documents the results of the detailed statistical survey conducted to capture data for the 2003/4 academic school year.

In spite of the extremely difficult circumstances affecting the Ministry of Education and its various institutions resulting from the generally unstable conditions of Iraq at the present juncture, the Ministry and its institutions have made a very creditable and extraordinary effort during 2003 and 2004 to resume its effective role and educational responsibility for the welfare of Iraqi children to fulfill all the needs of children, specially to fulfill their rights to quality education.

The important contribution of the United Nations Children's Fund (Unicef) was very critical in facilitating the conduct of this survey. Unicef provided valuable financial and technical support for the organization of the planning and implementation of this statistical survey and thereafter in the finalization of the results.

This survey report is considered now as the source of reliable and updated educational data base required by the Ministry of Education for planning, managing, monitoring and implementation of its work.

The results of this survey shared with you in this Volume-1 provide information for the following three major areas:

- Students Information:
Provides the number of students desegregated by age and gender, as well as by grade and governorates for all the students who are enrolled in the education system including the newly registered, dropped out students and those who are repeating the grades by each level of education.
- Teachers Information:
Provides the number of teachers desegregated by gender, years of experience and the types of training undertaken, as well as by title disaggregated by governorate.
- Information on school buildings/infrastructure:
Provides information on the physical conditions of school buildings and its facilities and classrooms.

This report and the data contained in it can be considered as the first official and reliable educational data source released following the war which can be relied upon and used both nationally as well as internationally made possible by the efforts of the MOE after the end of the war and after the rehabilitation of the Ministry and its institutions.

The data provided in this report will be useful and effective for the use not only by all the institutions of the Ministry of Education but also by the various other national and international partner agencies and organizations and is expected to contribute significantly in planning, managing and monitoring of the ongoing rehabilitation and reconstruction efforts of the Ministry underway by various stakeholders.

We would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks and appreciation for the financial contribution of USAID to UNICEF which has made this valuable educational effort possible. Also, my appreciation to the efforts of all the staff of the Ministry of Education who contributed to the preparations, implementations and finalization of this important report.

Volume-2: Analytical report and, Volume-3: Mapping of all the schools is also expected to be finalized and released shortly.

On this occasion of the release of this report, I would like to reiterate my own and my ministry's determination for continuing the challenging task of the rehabilitation, reconstruction and revival of a strong, vital and responsive education system which will be able to ensure that the rights of all children to quality education are met.
