5. Symphony No. 1 in E flat ..... Saint Saens

(This symphony was composed by a young composer, sixteen years of age, who knew his own musical mind. He thought only of a program as an excuse for a composer to try to discover fresh ways of saying things in music. Saint Saens would want us to listen to the music in his symphony, analyze it, but not to try to see any picture in it or discover therein any message but that of music itself.)

6. Born To The Sky—March ..... Crawford

7. Scenes From The Sierras ..... Bennett
(Unlike the Finale of Symphony No. 1 in E flat, this work is intended to suggest moods and it develops briefly the ideas presented by the following subtitles which are found in the music.)

Grey Dawn
Sunrise
Through the Desert
A Mountain Stream
A Waterfall
Majestic Lakes
Sunset
To the Mighty Sierras
